

Name: Mary Katherine Wildeman

Email Address: marwilde@indiana.edu

Subject: Graffiti Salvation Army

Message: Hi Jameson,

My name is Mary Katherine Wildeman. I'm an editor with the Indiana Daily Student. I noticed your blog post on the Bloomington Reddit. We have a couple simple questions for you - do you have time to talk today?

Let me know. Thanks,

Mary Katherine Wildeman

On Wed, Feb 26, 2014 at 1:26 PM, Farrell, Jameson K wrote:

Please relay your questions, and I'll see if I'm able to assist.

Thanks!

-Jameson-

From: Mary Katherine Wildeman [<mailto:marwilde@uemail.iu.edu>]

Sent: Wednesday, February 26, 2014 2:11 PM

To: Farrell, Jameson K

Subject: Re: Graffiti Salvation Army

We were looking to ask for verification on what happened and what you thought about it. Pretty simple stuff.

From: Farrell, Jameson K

Sent: Wednesday, February 26, 2014 2:35 PM

To: 'Mary Katherine Wildeman'

Subject: RE: Graffiti Salvation Army

Verification on what happened

- I have no idea what happened. I was neither present when the vandalism occurred, nor had any prior knowledge such an act would occur.
- I drove by, snapped some photos, and uploaded them.

What you thought about it.

- Vandalizing a building with crudely written graffiti is not a way I would recommend sharing one's political belief
- My thoughts on the Salvation Army can be summed up quite well here (which I link to on my blog)
- Whenever a Salvation Army bell ringer asks for donations, I kindly state that unfortunately I do not despise women and homosexuals enough to support their "cause"...
- Rather than donate to the SA, I would highly recommend donating to secular charities instead (preferably those which actually donate a significant portion of collected funds to causes, rather than paying ridiculous salaries to their administrative team); e.g. Doctors Without Borders, USA.
- Unfortunately, since the Salvation Army is exempt from filing a 990 form (listed in IRS code as a "church or convention or association of churches"), it's difficult to know exactly how donations are used by their team.

Thanks.

-Jameson-

On Wed, Feb 26, 2014 at 2:37 PM, Farrell, Jameson K wrote:

PS, you're more than welcome to use my photos. Would be happy to send the original versions if desired.

Thanks.

-Jameson-

On Wed, Feb 26, 2014 at 4:21 PM, Mary Katherine Wildeman <marwilde@umail.iu.edu> wrote:

Jameson,

Thanks for your response. Yeah, we would love to use one of your photos. If it's all the same to you, I can pull an image from your blog to save you the trouble.

Thanks so much,

Mary Katherine

On Feb 26, 2014, at 7:34 PM, "Mary Katherine Wildeman" <marwilde@umail.iu.edu> wrote:

Jameson,

Hate to bug you again - wanted to double check that it's alright with you if I pull photos from you blog post. Is that ok?

On Wed, Feb 26, 2014 at 7:36 PM, Farrell, Jameson K wrote:

Yes, please go ahead, but offer credit / courtesy of if possible.

Thanks!

-Jameson-

Sent from my iPhone

Of course. Thanks a lot.